MAKING THE MOST OF THE COLLEGE SEARCH AND YOUR UNDERGRADUATE YEARS

Tuesday, November 15, 2016, at 7 p.m.

Join New York Times best-selling author and Washington Post columnist

Jeff Selingo

as he shares advice from his new book,

THERE IS LIFE AFTER COLLEGE,

in conversation with Patricia Rose,
Director of Career Services,
University of Pennsylvania

Among the topics Jeff will address:

- How you go to college matters to how you launch into the job market more often than where you go.
- Three primary ways today's graduates launch from college and how their experiences and financial decisions shape the beginning of their careers.
- The fundamental experiences in and out of school that contribute to success in the job market and the skills most in demand by employers.

Location:

Claudia Cohen Hall Terrace Room
University of Pennsylvania
249 S. 36th Street
Philadelphia

The first 25 people to register and attend will receive a free signed copy of the book. Books will also be available for purchase for $20.
